City Assessor Tells Hitler Foresees End Taxpayers That Mayor Of Democracy for Has Difficult Job Germany on July 31

The great work that confronts Mayor Eugene B. Carey was impressed upon the members of the Kingston Taxpayers' Association at a special meeting held at the city hall Wednesday evening, when a member of the mayor's cabinet, City Assessor William B. Martin, told his hearers that "Never has a mayor, in the history of this or any other city, had a task before him or such things to do as Mayor Carey." "Just think," said Mr. Martin, "what Carey is up against, trying to straighten out the city's finances and put men to work?"

The speaker referred to the tendency in late years for men to work only for themselves, with little thought for others when there was more of a community of interest and neighbors would jump over the fence to help one of their number build a chicken coop, or make some other improvement to their property. He felt that there must be a change in this respect, that there must be more mutual helpfulness—and especially should his hearers work with those who had been elected to office. Said he, "It is a time when politics must be cast aside and we must work for one another."

To Watch Politicians. At the same time Mr. Martin could not seem to find it in his heart to thoroughly approve of all the acts of his predecessor and some saw an almost political touch in his later remark that "This association will keep the fear of God in the politicians if it stays together."

Assessor Martin said that he faced a hard task, adding that "Some of my best friends must be raised; some of my worst friends must be raised." He told his hearers that last year the following amounts had been cut from valuations in the various wards:

Assessor Martin said that in order to get the tax rate down valuations must be brought up, but he promised that where he put individual valuations up one or two hundred he would leave a note for his successor so that when building starts up again conditions improve the raise could be taken off.

The speaker made mention of the increase of $15,487 placed upon the city last year by the Board of Supervisors and said that the Taxpayers' Association could "work wonders" by seeing the members of the Board of Supervisors through the work of the State Tax Commission in placing an equalized valuation on property throughout the state. Mr. Martin said that Ulster was one of three counties that did not accept the State Commission's valuations, saying that the state gives the city a rating of 69, whereas the supervisors have fixed the rate at 73.

"Kingstonians," said Mr. Martin, "have been known for years and years as a peaceful and generous people; they have paid for years and years, but a point has been reached where even the rich man can't pay."

Mr. Martin thanked President Terry Mr. Martin was given a rising vote of thanks for his entertaining and instructive address, which had been greeted with hearty applause.

A number of members questioned Mr. Martin regarding various phases of the assessment problem, but President Terry had stated at the opening of the meeting that it would be unfair to ask the assessor to go into details regarding special properties. Edward P. Ward, chairman of the committee on taxes and assessments, whose committee recently made a survey of the assessments on one city block and who introduced Mr. Martin, had also stated that it would be unfair to ask Mr. Martin to go over the entire assessment and that his committee would be glad to hear complaints and take them up with the assessor at some other time.

Ward	Amount cut off
1	$16,000
2	27,150
3	13,350
4	59,125
5	78,500
6	14,180
7	6,600
8	3,900
9	25,000
10	27,900
11	17,150
12	4,570
13	2,000
Total	$295,425

It was explained that the cut in the Fourth ward included $56,125 taken off by the state, being special franchise valuation on the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company. Deducting this left $239,300 that had been cut from property valuations last year. Mr. Martin's argument was that these cuts in valuation were responsible for the tax rate of $56.16, adding that "if cuts were legitimately demanded the amounts should have been placed somewhere else."

Valuation Loss. The speaker stated that last year in the city there was a total expenditure for new buildings, alterations, etc., of $749,371. This included cost of building 49 new homes (compared with 18 new buildings this year). The net loss in valuation in the city in 1931 was $71,114. The valuations for the two years being:

1930	$25,655,704
1931	23,584,590
Decrease	$71,114

Among the questions brought up was the assessment of chain stores. (Continued on Page Seven)

Adolf Hitler Ending Airplane Campaign For Election Predicts End For German Republic With Elections Next Sunday.

Berlin, July 28 (AP)—Democracy in Germany was given only a few more days of life today by Adolf Hitler, fiery National Socialist leader.

Winding up a dashing airplane campaign for next Sunday's elections with a speech at the Great Berlin stadium last night, Hitler brought thunderous cheers from 100,000 of his followers when he said:

"July 31 must remove the rule of Democracy and of Marxism and its vassals from Germany and restore a regime of discipline, national conscience, honor and power."

"We aim," he continued, "to sweep the thirty political parties out of the country. We Germans must be a united people. We are on the eve of great historical decisions. The thirteen years of decadence (the life of the Republic) are nearing an end."

"We don't believe in the possibilities for international aid, but only in aid founded on our own strength."

Hitler's campaign posters today set him up as "Germany's Oliver Cromwell" and referred to Cromwell's words, uttered as he closed the British parliament and established his dictatorship nearly 300 years ago—"Take away that hauberk!"

The National Socialist Premier Roever of Oldenburg, where a Nazi state government is in control, went one better than Hitler, who has said that "heads shall roll" when the Nazis come into power in the nation.

Threats Fly. In a speech at Kassel, referring to the opponents of the Nazis, Roever said:

"I guarantee that these Schweinehund will be hanged and we'll have their bodies swinging until the crows have finished with them."

The Nazis scored a considerable victory yesterday when they succeeded in having the Prussian state ministry, now under the dictatorial control of Chancellor Van Papen, repeal the long-standing order which barred National Socialists from holding civil offices.

Three deaths and a number of injuries were recorded in political clashes last night. Police shot and killed one man in a group of unemployed at Ruhl after a battle in which three policemen were stabbed.

One Nazi was stabbed to death and another mortally wounded in a political argument at Oberwiesl near Cologne.

Three persons were seriously wounded in a gun battle between Nazis and Iron Fronters (war veterans) at Bolmsdorf, near Brunswick.

Men, Not Machines, To Get Relief Work. Washington, July 28 (AP)—Men, not machines, are to be favored for jobs resulting from the new $120,000,000 in federal highway aid.

And these workers—skilled and unskilled alike—must be employed on a 30-hour week basis and paid salaries specified in contracts between the government and those who undertake the road construction. So specifies the law.

The bureau of public roads is ready to speed the expenditure of many millions next month out of the money made available under the new relief law. First, Secretary Hyde must prepare regulations to carry out the congressional mandate of "the maximum employment of local labor consistent with a reasonable economy of construction."

Under this proviso, the progress of machinery in forcing out hand labor will be curtailed and it was said at the bureau that disputes undoubtedly would favor enforcement.

Machines will not be banished by any means, but it will be up to the state highway department, with the cooperation of the federal supervising engineer, to determine what work reasonably can be done by hand. There is latitude for differing opinions.

Despite the increased expense of construction under these provisions, it was said this would be offset by lower material costs and involve no greater construction outlays than last year.

No applications have yet been received for the new funds, but officials believe the entire $120,000,000 will be demanded.

Stranger Cashed A $100 Bad Check

Wednesday afternoon the telephone rang in the State of New York National Bank and a man, who purported to be City Treasurer James H. Betts, but who was not, said that he was sending a young fellow over to have a check cashed. Later a young man entered the bank and presented a check for $100 which was cashed. Still later the bank officials became suspicious and got in touch with City Treasurer Betts about the check. Mr. Betts was naturally astonished and said that he had not called the bank and that the check was forged. The police were notified shortly after 4 o'clock of the transaction. The stranger was said to be about 23 years old, 5 feet 8 inches tall, with smooth face and red cheeks and dark brown hair. He was dressed in dark clothes and gave his name as "Thomas Merritt."

Treasury Receipts. Washington, July 28 (AP)—Treasury receipts for July 28 were $2,443,144.42; expenditures $73,202,541.91; balance $151,426,778.58. Customs duties for 25 days were $15,352,526.09.

U.S. Interests Keep Close Eye On Empire Bargaining Plans

Ottawa, Ont., July 28 (AP)—American interests, eyeing the British imperial economic conference closely in an effort to protect their trade advantages in Canada, began today the drafting of an unofficial statement of views.

The Americans, outsiders at the conference but keenly interested in it, planned to indicate the disadvantages that might result to Canadian-American trade if certain proposals before the conference were agreed to.

At the same time Great Britain sought diplomatically to force Canada's hand, and to learn what favors British industry may expect in return for preference tariffs favoring Canada.

From the outset Great Britain has made it clear that she cannot act upon dominion requests for export advantages until she knows what to expect in return.

Avail Canada. Conference procedure provides that the daughter nations agree among themselves on trade bargains before Great Britain discusses separately with each what favors she must exact.

The various delegations, representing the numerous units of the British Empire, are inclined to delay actual bargaining until Canada, the minister of the American firm for 14 years, indicates what she intends to offer in return for what she hopes to receive.

Canada, on the other hand, has appeared to be waiting to see what Great Britain intends to do.

The interest of the United States, Argentina and other non-empire nations centers in Canada's stand. These outside nations are especially concerned as to what Canada will offer Great Britain in connection with the "list of 3,000" industrial articles proposed by Premier Bennett of Canada as a bargaining basis.

The first plenary session of the committee on customs administration attracted special notice today from the United States. This was because under the Canadian Tariff Act of 1930 the powers given to the minister of national revenue include virtually arbitrary control over imports.

Under the act, if a Canadian manufacturer complains that the United States producer is underselling him, the minister of national revenue may instruct the American firm to raise his selling price above the Canadian manufacturer's, or keep his product out of Canada.

Cigarette Tax. Trade experts blame this law for the fact that a package of cigarettes selling in the United States for 14 cents retails here for 55 cents, compared with 25 cents for a comparable Canadian brand.

There was the possibility that the committee on customs administration might discuss duties outside as well as within the empire. If so, United States exporters would get some definite notion of what to look for in Canadian trade.

The semi-official United States view today was that the empire preferences might not be as costly as had been expected. It was pointed out that there is in Canada a long cultivated taste for American food products and long familiarity with United States goods.

Also considered was the fact that empire competition would find it difficult to compete in price and quantity with United States concerns.

It would take nations seeking the American share of the British fruit markets eight to ten years, it was argued, to acquire sufficient apple orchards to supply the demand. Even then, there would be the question of whether the trade could be weaned from American preference.

The matter of empire parity was before today's session of the committee on currency. It was indicated that those parts of the empire most heavily in debt to gold standard creditors would take the lead in opposing any movement for inflation.

No monetary reform is expected by most delegates without an international agreement including non-empire nations.

FEDERAL AGENTS HAD BUSY TIME WEDNESDAY. At 8 Maple Road, Arlington, Kingston prohibition agents, acting under a search warrant, on Wednesday arrested Charles Best and seized equipment in a large alleged beer bottling plant; they also seized alleged Scotch, apple and rye whiskey, gin and beer. Best was arraigned before Commissioner Platt in Poughkeepsie, who held him in $1,000 bail for a hearing later.

In the same town, at the corner of Maple Road and Grand street, the agents seized a G. C. truck loaded with alleged beer. Leonard Gibson was arrested and held in $1,000 bail by Commissioner Platt for a later hearing.

At 13 Hasbrouck avenue, Kingston, Edwin Coburn was arrested on search warrant and alleged beer was seized. Coburn was arraigned before Commissioner Connelly.

Henry Jacobs was arrested at 111 Main street, Poughkeepsie, and held for arraignment today before Commissioner Platt, charged with possession of alleged whiskey, gin and beer.

Stove Company Employees GO BACK TO FULL TIME. Gardner, Mass., July 28.—The Florence Stove Company announced today it would go on a full time 54-day week schedule for the remainder of the year. It has called back all employees who have been idle during a reduced schedule operative the past few months. The company at present employs 450, but the resumption of normal activity will increase the force to 570 persons.

Murphy Appears In a New Role

Represented Mrs. Kearney, Who Had Members of Bahl Family Arrested, in Police Court—Other Cases Brought to Court's Attention.

Daniel J. Murphy of Spring street, who has appeared in numerous parts in the play of life, staged a new role today in police court when he appeared before Judge Culliton in police court and said that he represented Mrs. Margaret Kearney of Spring street, who had had three members of the Bahl family of Spring street arrested on charges of disorderly conduct.

The three Bahls arrested were Mrs. Gussie Bahl, Miss Beatrice Bahl and Milton Bahl, all of 27 Spring street. They were charged by Mrs. Kearney with using indecent language. All three entered pleas of not guilty and the hearings were adjourned to next Wednesday.

Mr. Murphy said that he desired to inform Judge Culliton that this morning Alex Bahl, husband of Mrs. Gussie Bahl, and father of Milton and Beatrice Bahl, had threatened his—Murphy's life—and that he asked for police protection. He said the Murphy family had been residents of this city for 27 years and thought they were entitled to police protection.

Following the adjournment of the hearing all of the parties left the court room. A few minutes later Mr. Murphy and Mrs. Kearney entered police headquarters and said that the Bahls had acted in a disorderly manner to them in the city hall corridor.

"If that's the case," said Chief Wood "your remedy is to see Judge Culliton and swear out another warrant."

"That's what we'll do," said Mr. Murphy and Mrs. Kearney, and they returned to the judge's office.

Gruskin Case Adjourned. Another adjournment, this time to August 12, was taken in the hearing of Samuel Gruskin of Brooklyn, charged with reckless driving on the Strand. The adjournment was taken as Mrs. Lillian Sadur who was struck by the Gruskin auto was still would not be able to appear in court for at least two weeks.

Arthur Ewig, who appeared for Mrs. Sadur, said that she was badly bruised about the body.

Other Cases in Court. An adjournment to August 4, was taken in the case of Joseph Cozzi charged with assault in the third degree. He had been arrested on complaint of Mrs. Mary Cecelia Benjamin Van Keuren of 74 Pine Grove avenue, arrested on a warrant sworn out by his wife charging assault in the third degree, was given a private hearing in the judge's office.

Disarm or Pay Debts, U. S. Tells Europe

Washington, July 28 (AP)—An indication from an administration Republican that he might be willing to talk about debt revision if Europe will reduce arms created more talk in the capital today over what actually is going to happen.

The latest pronouncement was from Watson of Indiana, Senate Republican leader. Watson found it "unthinkable" that the United States should let Europe keep the money it owes to build more war strength.

But he did not find it "unthinkable" that the United States might be willing to trade debt reduction or cancellation for disarmament. He said:

"It is not up to us . . . to call a conference for the purpose of cancelling the debts the other nations owe us . . . It is their first move on the checkbook, and that move should be one of actual disarmament."

Watson's pronouncement was issued a while after Ambassador Mellon talked with President Hoover and Secretary Stimson with Senator Borah, who suggested that a trade of debt cancellation for disarmament be considered at a world conference.

The Indianan said he had not discussed the Borah plan with Mr. Hoover. But it was believed Watson's announcement would prevent very speedy progress toward a world meeting unless Europe first does something about arms.

And no official as yet has finally and definitely opposed a world economic conference to talk about debts—provided arms are reduced.

Republicans To Hold Caucus Saturday

The Republican party will hold caucuses in the various city wards on Saturday to select delegates to attend the unofficial Republican county convention to be held at the Ritz Theatre on Pine Grove avenue on Saturday, August 5. The convention convenes at 11 o'clock that morning.

STOVE COMPANY EMPLOYEES GO BACK TO FULL TIME. Gardner, Mass., July 28.—The Florence Stove Company announced today it would go on a full time 54-day week schedule for the remainder of the year. It has called back all employees who have been idle during a reduced schedule operative the past few months. The company at present employs 450, but the resumption of normal activity will increase the force to 570 persons.

Believe Roosevelt And Gov. Ely Agree

Albany, N. Y., July 28 (AP)—Satisfied that his political reconciliation with Governor Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts has been accomplished, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt today was formulating a radio speech which will pave the way for Ely's formal endorsement next Monday of the Roosevelt candidacy.

An announcement Monday was promised by Ely yesterday after he and the New York governor finished the conference which was arranged for them by National Chairman James A. Farley in the interests of party harmony.

The leader of the strong Alfred E. Smith sentiment in New England did not come forth with the Roosevelt endorsement which some members of the Roosevelt campaign crew had looked for. But when asked by newspapermen whether he would support the governor, he said:

"I'll tell you all about that next Monday."

The Democratic standard bearer was sitting beside him as he made the promise.

Ely added that Mr. Roosevelt's scheduled radio speech for Saturday night, in which the candidate has said he would "discuss the whole platform," would have a common note with Monday's "announcement." This was taken to mean that Roosevelt would reaffirm the party's strict adherence to the plank calling for repeal of the 18th Amendment.

A highly popular topic in "wet" New England, this in turn would give Ely occasion to come forward with expression of similar sentiment, and incidentally, his endorsement of the Roosevelt-Garner combination.

The Saturday night speech, although political in nature, has been seen as marking the opening of the Roosevelt's major speaking campaign. The governor's big guns will not be limbered up until next month when he goes to Columbus, Ohio, to address the Democratic state convention.

PHOENICIA CROSSING SIGN SITE APPROVED. Albany, July 28.—An order approving the location of an approach warning sign at the State Highway crossing of the New York Central Railroad in the village of Phenicia, Ulster county, has been issued by the Public Service Commission.

Under ordinary conditions such signs are located 300 feet or more from the crossing, but the Commission has authority to approve the location of the sign at a different location when physical conditions are such that it is impracticable to place the sign 300 feet or more from the crossing.

The Commission has ordered that the State Department of Public Works is permitted to install the approach warning sign at a distance of 210 feet west of the crossing. If it were placed 300 feet or more from the crossing it would be located in front of stores where for part of the time it would be hidden behind parked automobiles.

This crossing is in the middle of the village close to the business center where the speed of vehicles is less than on the open road. The crossing is protected by automatic flashing signals.

TO INSPECT AMERICAN FILMS ENTERING FRANCE. Paris, July 28 (AP)—Close inspection of motion picture films from Hollywood and elsewhere to protect French morals and French producers was ordered today in a decree signed by President LeBrun.

The decree, effective for one year, provides certain agencies of control which may be used against practices considered harmful to the French film industry or morals, but apparently there is no fixed license or quota scheme.

"Certain countries by their methods of production or the extent of their market," said the summary, "could annihilate or at least compromise the French industry if the government did not reserve the possibility of safeguarding French producers."

McCABE CREDITOR IN WHELAN DRUG FAILURE. New York, July 27 (Special)—John J. McCabe, of 296 Wall street, Kingston, is listed as a creditor in the petition and schedules in bankruptcy filed here today in Federal Court by Retail Chemists Corp., formerly known as Whelan Drug Co. The McCabe claim, the size of which is not stated, is based upon a store lease entered into by the bankrupt.

The bankrupt lists liabilities of $10,000.635, all in unsecured claims. Of this $10,000.000 is owed the United Cigar Stores Co. The assets, stated to be $5,513,465, include stocks and bonds of a book value of $5,426,887 in the Whelan Drug Co. of Delaware.

GRAVEYARD CROONER BELIEVED TO BE TRUSTY. Joliet, Ill., July 28 (AP)—The graveyard crooner whose clear tenor voice has attracted hundreds of persons to an abandoned Illinois state prison cemetery, was believed by penitentiary officials today to be a trusty, William Chrysler.

The officials said they had been informed that the singing had been coming from a stone quarry near the cemetery and that Chrysler, who takes care of the quarry pumps at night, was responsible for it. They planned a definite checkup.

Bonus Forces Must Leave Federal Property

Eviction Order is Being Enforced and Arrests Made of Those Who Refuse to Obey the Order—Structures to be Torn Down by Wrecking Crews.

Washington, July 28 (AP)—A group of the bonus seeking war veterans today resorted to violence after being evicted from a building they had been occupying on lower Pennsylvania avenue. They chased police for some distance by throwing bricks at the officers.

Washington, July 28 (AP)—Immediate eviction of all members of the Bonus Expeditionary Forces from federal property was ordered today by the government shortly after a group of veterans had been removed from one of the buildings they occupied on lower Pennsylvania avenue near the capitol.

The sweeping evacuation order was made public by Attorney General Mitchell who said nearby jails were available to care for all the veterans who proved rebellious.

A large group were removed, some forcibly, from their temporary home near the capitol. At least two arrests were made of veterans who refused to leave voluntarily and were hustled out by police.

Under instructions of the treasury department, wrecking crews were sent to the site early this morning to tear down the structure preliminary to razing other buildings in the vicinity which have been occupied by the veterans to make way for the government building program.

Eviction of bonus seeking former service men from a building they have been occupying on lower Pennsylvania avenue was begun today by treasury officials assisted by a heavy police guard.

Battle for a time in beginning destruction of the building by refusal of the veterans to leave. The treasury employees finally began operations on the ground floor of the three story structure.

They walked up to a group of veterans standing in the doorway, took one by the arm and marched him off the property. The man put up no resistance and smiled at his escort.

Pelham D. Glassford, police chief, was in charge of the officers. "Arrest any man that resists," he ordered his men.

The treasury officials intended to repossess the building so that after occupants were removed a wrecking crew could go to work.

The building is located a block from the capitol grounds. After it is torn down a number of others will be demolished to make way for government building program. The veterans have been living in them temporarily.

While the first men were being led off, others on the upper floors and on the roof, waved American flags and cheered. Large numbers of other veterans crowded about and watched the proceeding.

About 40 former soldiers crowded into the building to be demolished after its regular occupants had voted not to get out.

A stentorian-voiced Texan stood at the front of the building and shouted: "Come on all you bums and let's stay in here. What difference does it make if you do get hit with a brick? Do you expect to live forever?"

The ground floor was cleared without difficulty amidst considerable razing from veterans on the upper floors and on the roof.

The only way to get to the second floor was up a ladderlike stairway. When the treasury agents arrived on that floor they met their first resistance.

A large negro declared that he was unable to walk down the stairway "because the height makes me dizzy."

After his refusal the treasury agents started to pick him up bodily. When he resisted he was arrested. Officers bumped him down the steps as he shouted at the top of his voice "Don't hit me, don't hit me. I'm a citizen, I'm a citizen."

Still shouting "don't hit me" he was placed in a patrol wagon and hauled away. Glassford standing in the group of veterans on the second floor, joined with everyone else in hearty laughter.

Others on the second floor came down the narrow stairway without resistance.

NEWBURN SCHOOL BOARD CUTS TAX RATE TO $7.00. Newburgh's board of education has eliminated $55,000 from the annual school budget, reducing the school tax rate from $9 to $7.60 per thousand valuation.

St. William Wilcocks Dead. Cairo, Egypt, July 25 (AP)—Sir William Wilcocks, British engineer and designer of the noted Egyptian Assuan dam, died today of pneumonia. In 1914 he was retained by the United States government as consulting engineer for the reclamation service.

Federals Victorious. Rio De Janeiro, July 23 (AP)—A government announcement asserted that the offensive against the Sao Paulo rebels in the Parahyba river valley was successful today. The federal forces took 149 prisoners, including a number of officers.

Denied Application. Washington, July 23 (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today denied the application of the Niagara Junction Railway Company for permission to control the Niagara Gorge Railway Company.

Youth Congress Plans Progress

Plans are rapidly being formulated for the first annual Youth Congress to be held at the Y. M. C. A. camp at Glen Elder under the auspices of the Kingston Youth Council on September 9, 10 and 11.

Mrs. D. N. Secor will have charge of the culinary department of the congress, and promises some excellent meals to the delegates.

The program as yet has not been definitely prepared, but the general committee under the direction of Harry Gumaer is at present busy securing speakers. The congress will be open for all young people of Kingston and vicinity. Registration blanks may be secured at either the Y. M. C. A. or Y. W. C. A.

The following are the committees: Registration committee, Richard Gumaer, chairman; Charles E. Gumaer, secretary; and Charles E. Gumaer, treasurer. Entertainment committee, Richard Gumaer, chairman; Charles E. Gumaer, secretary; and Charles E. Gumaer, treasurer.

HOME BUREAU OFFERS AID IN FOOD PRESERVATION

The preservation of foods—a subject of as vital interest as it was in World War days—is to be demonstrated in two centers in Ulster county next week. The first meeting held in Kingston, Monday afternoon, August 1, is open to all women of city and county interested in the best methods of preserving fruits and vegetables. It will be held at the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Home Service Rooms, 611 Broadway, Kingston, beginning at 2 p. m. Daylight saving time. The second meeting will be held Tuesday, August 2, at Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, Modena, at the same hour. This meeting is planned to meet the convenience of all women in the southern part of the county.

The demonstrations will be given by Mrs. Elizabeth C. Baker, a graduate of the New York State College of Home Economics, and one who has had much experience in foods work. She was formerly dietitian in schools and hospitals as well as having done social work in nutrition in New York city. At present she lives on a farm and is having practical experience in doing the things necessary to farm life.

At no time since the period of the World War has there been a greater need for storing summer's wealth for winter's health and to help feed the hungry through the non-producing months ahead. The Home Bureau is offering this service to the people of Ulster county to help in this period of need and an urgent invitation is extended to all who are interested to know more about the process of caring for the present supply of fruits and vegetables.

REDUCTION ANNOUNCED IN PRICE OF SOAP

Millions of dollars will be saved the American housewife as the result of a drastic reduction in the retail price of Ivory soap, announced today by Procter & Gamble Company in the first of a series of large newspaper advertisements. According to the announcement, Ivory, the chief product of the company, has been cut approximately 25 per cent to its lowest price in seventeen years, and nearly as low as when the soap was first introduced over fifty years ago.

Affecting one of the best known American household articles, this move is in keeping with the present-day trend to enable the housewife to purchase advertised quality products that will compete favorably, both as to price and use, with the cheap, inferior imitations offered to the public, which have flooded the markets recently.

In choosing newspapers as the medium through which to make the announcement, Procter & Gamble stated that they offered the most effective and quickest means of getting this news to the whole American public.

YOUNG CANTOR HERE ON FRIDAY EVENING

The public is cordially invited on Friday evening to services at the Congregation Ahavath Israel, corner Wurts and Pierpont streets, at 8 o'clock. Israel Feigenblatt, the 13-year old boy recently connected with one of the largest synagogues in New York, will officiate as cantor on Friday and also on Saturday morning at 8 o'clock.

PLATTEKILL

Plattekill, July 27—Members of the Plattekill Fire Department conducted a dance at Jerry Naughton's dance hall Saturday evening.

The Plattekill Grangers' baseball team played a game with the Port Auto Sales team of Newburgh. Sunday afternoon on the diamond at Leptondale. The score was 10-6 in favor of the Grangers.

Plattekill Grange members were guests of the Rosendale Grange Monday evening of this week, when the annual "Neighbors' Night" was observed by the Rosendale organization. During the program of entertainment, Stone Ridge Grangers presented recreational features and Plattekill Grangers presented a short play and a speech.

Mr. and Mrs. Ror Briscoe and family of Newburgh were callers in this place Sunday afternoon. Vernon B. Wager spent Saturday afternoon with his sister, Mrs. Harry Gerow at Clintondale.

Joseph Bensel was a business caller in New Paltz last week. A number of people from this place visited Sam's Point in the Shawangunk mountains Sunday, for the purpose of picking huckleberries which are reported to be scarce in quantity and poor in quality.

GET RID OF INDIGESTION IN A FEW MINUTES, OR Get Your Money Back

"It-gets" and milk of magnesia only make your indigestion worse and cost more. They weaken the digestive aid in your stomach. It cannot digest your food properly. It causes indigestion, dizziness, a few minutes by stopping the working of food in your stomach and the danger of food in your bowels. The medicine "Peppermint" which stops the working of food in your stomach, is a prescription by the New York Pharmaceutical Company, where Druggists and other fine medicine have held the respect of physicians, druggists, hospitals, nurses and druggists for nearly 30 years.

Dairy Situation Heard by Rotary

Several songs by J. Raymond McElheny of New York city, and a short talk on the dairy situation by Robert W. Eno of Homestead, Pennsylvania, were the entertainment features enjoyed by the members of the Kingston Rotary Club at their luncheon meeting in the Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday noon.

Because of the short program, and the lack of a prolonged business discussion, the meeting was adjourned before the regular time.

Guests at the meeting were Peter Flanagan, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Nelson McElheny, New York city.

In his song program, J. Raymond McElheny proved himself to be a singer with a fine voice and an enjoyable personality. Among the songs he sang before the club, were "Singing in the Rain," "The Great Divide," and "River Stay Away From My Door." He was accompanied at the piano by Harry Malsenbeler.

A discussion of the dairy situation was then given by Robert W. Eno, who is a member of the Emergency Milk Committee. In the course of his short discussion on the important part that milk plays in the economic structure, Mr. Eno stated that the dairy business is the largest single industry in the United States, with an outlay of many billions of dollars. At the present time, the dairy situation is acute, according to Mr. Eno, especially so from the standpoint of the farmer who produces the milk.

"The farmer who produces milk has no means of regulating the price of his product at the present time," said the speaker, "due largely to his lack of organization. Because of this, the farmer who produces milk finds himself in a desperate financial condition. Our problem is to join all of the farmers into a farm owned and farmer operative association, so that the farmer will be able to protect himself by asking a fair price for the milk he produces instead of having to take what is offered. So far, we have proven very successful in our efforts to band the dairymen of New York state together, and we have every reason to believe that the plan will go through, a plan that will not only aid the dairymen, but also the cities in New York state, because much of the trade in the cities comes from the rural communities that surround them, and this plan will enable the farmer to receive a fair price for the milk he produces."

President Morgan thanked the speaker for his impromptu discussion, and the meeting was adjourned.

Questioning Romance
Every ship is a romantic object, except that we sail in. Embark and the romance quits our vessel and hangs on every other sail in the horizon.—Ralph Waldo Emerson, quoted in the Golden Book Magazine.

BEWARE OF STALE GASOLINE!

THE LONGER IT LOAFS THE LAZIER IT GETS

ONLY fresh GAS PACKS FULL POWER!

THE longer gas is stored, the weaker it gets. Volatile "easy starting" elements evaporate. In addition, a definite chemical change takes place—so that as gas gets staler, it gets feebler and feebler!

Stale gas is stickier, too—and is far more apt to knock. The entire petroleum industry has long known these facts—has long sought a way to halt gasoline deterioration.

Now, by radical advances in refining and distributing, Gulf protects you from staleness—assures you of genuine FRESH, full-powered gasoline. In this way...

By making the finest possible gasoline and by refining out of that gas the elements which cause fast deterioration—"staleness." Hence Gulf gas stays FRESH longer.

And by rushing you this FRESH-MADE gas like some perishable food—giving it no chance to get stale.

Careful location of Gulf refineries has made this possible. So wisely are these refineries placed that every Gulf station is close to a source of FRESH-MADE gas. A huge fleet of tank trucks rushes FRESH gas to Gulf pumps every day.

Get FRESH-MADE, power-packed gasoline! Get Gulf—and nothing else. Your motor will be cleaner. Quieter. Faster.

get THAT GOOD GULF GASOLINE—it's fresh

News of Today In Kingston

Sweet and low.

The organ at the Broadway Theater was just that, as the nimble fingers of Roger Baer wandered over the banks of keys in a private tryout of the instrument Wednesday morning. Baer is a well known orchestra leader of this vicinity and will play the organ regularly, starting in the near future.

This was the first time in four years that the instrument has been played. Its death came with the introduction of the "talkie." So for all these years beautiful notes have been sleeping, being deprived of their function of reacting on people's spirits like wine.

It was heralded as the greatest organ in the Hudson Valley, when it was built, and still is. This, of course, just adds to one's uneasiness over the matter. To think that the best organ in the country-side should be left idle. Furthermore, it cost thousands of dollars, which is most extravagant when one stops to consider the use it has been given.

But the good old notes, real live notes, echoed and resounded throughout the theatre. They hit the walls and bounced back again; ran here and there, piercing the shadows of the mellow lit audience chamber. The air vibrated as the deep resonant notes stole their way from their secret hiding place behind the large column on the left side of the theatre.

The tones came forth like a great voice, jubilant after four years of imprisonment. They were loud, uttered quickly but in harmony, pleasing the ear and quickening the pulse. One could almost imagine a human form accompanying these voices with arm outstretched, crying in defiance of that which had repressed them, "can music."

Then followed the soft mellow tones, that resembled the calm that always follows the jubilant time, and Baer's fingers wandered slowly down the keys and then his hands fell into his lap. He sat for a moment like a tired master over his instrument. Yes, the organ was silent once more.

Business is picking up they say. The large cities show the greater progress. Still the facts to prove this saying have not been revealed. It stands a good chance of being true because politicians have not been shouting that business is bucking up or that prosperity is just around the corner.

How long will it take the change in tide to reach the banks of the small towns? It is as essential that they have a revival as well as the large town. In fact, the large city is more able to take care of its unemployed for its relief funds run into millions, while in the small community the amount reaches only thousands.

Leading men of the country are really becoming disturbed. They fear the winter as well as the poor fellow who is out of work with a mob. These men understand the mob and have a good idea what will happen if employment is created by the time the leaves begin to fall. It has been said that the wealthy should share their money with the needy or it will be taken away from them. At this stage it is really more dangerous than ever with the Reds traveling about trying to arouse the masses into drastic and foolish action.

The national government should take these types of people and deport them. It should make a clean sweep of the country and out all that are undesirable. Of course, an extensive program of deportation is now on foot, but apparently many of the wrong people are being sent from our shores.

Here again we must have political influence. Everything is dry about the town. Of course, we mean the grass is brown. We do need rain very bad. But tennis players, they'd be sad.

T. X. T. Cafeteria, Supper.

The T. X. T. club of Flatbush will hold a cafeteria supper on Tuesday evening, August 2, in the club rooms on Flatbush avenue. Serving of the supper will start at six o'clock and the following menu will be served under the direction of Mrs. Agnes Carle and Mrs. Daisy Miller who have charge of the affair: baked beans, meat loaf, hot dogs, scalloped potatoes, salads, rolls, coffee and ice cream. The price of each portion is nominal and the proceeds are for the benefit of the club.

Flammable Burned.

Clarence Flahive, of the stove department of Montgomery Ward & Co., had an unpleasant experience when a blow torch used for repair work and which he was demonstrating caught fire and the flames communicated to alcohol which had spilled on his hand and arm. He succeeded in extinguishing the flames on his arms before much damage had been done, throwing the torch on to the roadway, where it burned itself out.

Movie Stars Attend Shriners' Session

San Francisco, July 24 (A.P.)—Star and crescents flashed in a final blaze of pageantry here today as Hollywood film luminaries joined in celebrating the conclusion of the fifty-eighth annual imperial council session of the Ancient, Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

The climax of the closing program is to see the shrine uniformed units and the motion picture celebrities massed in an electrical pageant at the specially constructed civic center stadium tonight. Grand Marshal of the fourth and final parade of the three-day convention will be Harold Lloyd, actor and Shriner.

Wallace Beery, an advance member of the Hollywood delegation, has been in San Francisco for several days attending the convention, as has another motion picture celebrity, George Bancroft.

Among stars from Filmland, in the announced list of pageant participants, are: Tom Mix, Joe E. Brown, Bebe Daniels, Ben Lyon, Edward G. Robinson, Buster Keaton, Anita Page, Polly Moran, George Raft, Dorothy Jordan, Boris Karloff, Roscoe Ates, William Desmond, Hedda Hopper, William Taylor, Richard Bennett, Joan Bennett, and Wallace Ford. Joseph Schenck, producer, also will be present.

Last night, the third parade of the convention passed in review before packed stands. Shrine patrols of North America paid tribute to their new imperial potentate, Earl O. Mills of Des Moines, Ia., and their retiring leader, Thomas J. Houston of Chicago.

Earlier a mardi gras of industry carried out the convention's keynote of optimism with an impressive display of progress and farewell to "Old Man Depression."

LOCAL CONCERN AWARDED
SEWAGE DISPOSAL CONTRACT

The New York Nustone Corporation of Kingston has been awarded the sewage disposal contract for the new Memorial Hospital of Greenvale, which is to be erected on the former Grant Home grounds on Jefferson Heights at Catskill. The local concern's bid was $1,200.

George E. Love of this city is the architect of the new hospital. The total cost of the construction of the hospital will be $31,750.50, plus the price paid for the site, which was $10,000 and the architect's fee. The cost of the equipment is not included in this sum.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel your liver and bile are sluggish, you are a lot of things, but you are not a healthy man. You are not a healthy man until your liver and bile are in good condition. For they don't do it. They only make the liver and bile sluggish. They only make the liver and bile sluggish. They only make the liver and bile sluggish.

music while the rocks were full of practicing musicians, knows what a bedlam can result from a jumble of otherwise lovely music.

Possibly the next thing the government will be getting around to, in the spread of Federal relief, is help for families. Especially large families. There always were families too large to support themselves fully in good times. In many communities of every state it has long been necessary for private or public charity to help sustain them. With relief burdens being pushed along from private philanthropy to the city and county, from them to the state and from the state to the Federal government, the outcome may be easily guessed. "Our own children," says a sociologist, "will have to solve this problem." He thinks they may solve it by changing the word "charity" or "relief" to "pension." In short, government pensions for big families—not a reward, but a forced contribution from society in general, for overproduction of children by those who cannot take care of them.

How many—or how few—years ago was it that women wore long sleeves, high collars, gloves, coats, hats and veils when they appeared on the street even in the summer time? Behold them now! Sleeveless, collarless dresses, hats or not as the mood decrees, and a rapidly growing custom of bare legs comprise this summer's feminine attire.
 It would have shocked the grandmothers. No good would have been expected of a generation so free in its costuming. As matters stand, however, society seems to be holding together pretty well.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

INHERITING OVERWEIGHT

That it is natural for some individuals to store fat in certain regions of the body and not in others is now well recognized. That this is due in some cases to disturbance in the gland system is admitted, but the majority of these cases are now thought to be due to heredity; the tendency to overweight in these regions having been handed down from parents to children.

That this particular tissue in one particular region will accumulate fat, whilst the tissue in another region will not do so, is hard to explain. An interesting experiment has been performed whereby tissue from a part of the body where fat accumulates, has been transplanted to the back of the hand,
 and in this unusual spot, fat accumulated.

Dr. Julius Bauer has found that in a series of 400 overweight cases, 88 per cent had one or other of their parents or parent's parents overweight. He believes that overweight must be considered as a failure of the normal machinery or arrangement of the work of the body, which keeps the weight of the adult man or woman always the same. This mechanism is so perfect that the adult may go on always altering the work he does from day to day, and still altering the amount of food he eats, and yet his weight remains the same.

One of the strange things about this inherited tendency to store fat is that the son or daughter of an overweight parent will remain thin until well past middle life, and then the weight will accumulate rapidly, and the son and daughter will become just as much overweight as the parent.

There are many instances where the son or daughter of an overweight individual has been so thin that special measures—nine hours rest at night, and one hour during the day, rich starchy foods, and cutting down on exercise, have failed to make the slightest impression, and two or three years later, this thin individual began to put on weight, without any attention to rest, food and exercise, and accumulated as much as 20 to 30 pounds within a year.

The lesson then is that if you come of overweight stock and find yourself putting on weight rapidly that you immediately begin to cut down on your food intake, because you will require less food to supply the needs of your body.

The Faithful Cheat

BY RUBY M. AYRES

SYNOPSIS: When her sister
 Flora came to her to see her about her husband, John, who had been a cheat, she found that she was not the only one who had been deceived.

Chapter 16
 "I LOVE MY MADNESS"

THERE were friends who would take her for a time, of course, Flora thought, but one could not go on for ever sponging for nonpittance; besides, when it was known that she hadn't any money, would anyone be anxious for her company? She knew they would not.

Flora said abruptly, "I wish to goodness you could marry John Anderson; can't you make him get rid of his wife?"

"I'm not aware that John has any overwhelming desire to marry me," Sandra said. "Besides, isn't it rather a contradiction, to advise me to put my head in the noose you're so anxious to escape? Do you think I should be any happier than you are, if I married for money?"

"But you like John, don't you?"
 Flora said amazed. "I always thought you were frightfully fond of him."

"Fond of him!" Sandra echoed.
 "I'm fond of lots of men, but I haven't the least desire to marry
 any of them."

Flora sighed. "Somehow I thought it was more than that—I thought you were in love with him," she said.

"In love with him—" Sandra raised her eyes and looked at her reflection in the mirror. "What made you think that?" she asked slowly.

"Oh, I don't know—but when you're together, you seem so suited.
 I've always felt that even if you marry anybody else, John will always be the one you should have married."

"I should think he would be tremendously flattered," Flora came across to her sister.

"What's the matter with us?"
 she said in a strangely shaken voice. "We've changed so—both of us. We used to be the greatest pals—we always told each other everything—everything we hoped for and dreamed about—and we've quite changed. What's the matter with us, Sandra?"

Sandra jerked her shoulder to free it of her sister's touch.

"It's life I suppose," she said hardly. "And what we've been brought up. It's no good being mushy about it—but it angered her because she felt the tears in her eyes."

Flora turned away.

"You're harder than I am," she said. "And perhaps you're lucky;
 you won't suffer so much. Don't ever get fond of anyone, Sandra—not really fond—it's not happiness
 it's just suffering all the time."

"Are you so fond of Jocelyn?"
 Sandra asked.

"I'd die for him," Flora said.
 There was a tragic silence, then Flora went on—"But as far as he's concerned, I can die. He won't care me on any terms, poor darling."

She laughed a little. "It makes him angry because he's in love with me.
 He'd much rather have had a dull, ordinary love affair with some girl; he'd have enjoyed being properly engaged, and then getting married in the orthodox way at some fashionable church, and a month's honeymoon in Italy and all the rest of it."

"She broke off, only to admit after a moment. "And I should have loved it too. You know, in spite of everything, I'm just an ordinary creature in my heart.
 Hopelessly middle-class I suppose.
 Since I married Bea, everything's been a big sham—all the ceremony, and ostentation. If only you knew how I loathe a maid to help me dress—"

"Flora."

"Oh you can stare," Flora said defiantly. "It's the truth, though I don't suppose anyone would believe me. I could have been perfectly happy in a little house—with Jocelyn. But it's life, isn't it—that we should always long for the things we can't have."

There was a profound silence, which Flora broke abruptly.

"I didn't know John was back,"
 she said.

"Yes, he came this evening."

"Have you seen him?"

"No."

"He was at the theater tonight with a girl."

"Was he?"

"Yes, and that appalling Cassidy
 man."

"I like Cassidy; he amuses me."

"I hate him; he's a sponger—and I don't believe he's really a
 man."

Sketches in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Springfield, Ill.—It was his idea of community pride that led him astray. Postmaster William L. Beebe of Manito told a judge as he pleaded guilty to embezzling $1,200.
 He said he used the money to buy fine office equipment because he was ambitious to give Manito "the best equipped third class post office in Mason county."

Chicago—Nary a wound has Policeman Martin Goudon suffered in coping with evil-doers, but housecleaning day was his Waterloo. His wife assigned him to do the bedroom. As he turned over a mattress, his pistol beneath a pillow shot him in the leg.

Chicago—The ghosts of the harem queens of Xerxes, ancient Persian ruler, must be furious. Scientists from Chicago University report they are now quartered in the six golden apartments of Xerxes' favorites in the palace of Persepolis.

Rome—Toot! Toot! It's the honeymoon special coming down the track. The state railway has cut 50 per cent off the cost of round trip
 tickets to Rome—for newlyweds.
 The idea is to get more young folk interested in marriage.

Joliet, Ill.—Maybe there won't be trouble if Peter Buschnell catches the thief who stole his garden. While Buschnell slept, the scoundrel walked off with 30 heads of cabbage and 60 hills of potatoes.

New York—It all came out in the wash. Racketeers seeking to intimidate a dry cleaner sewed explosives in the neckbands of soiled shirts and sent the bundle to his shop. The idea was that things would be blown to bits as soon as the explosives came into contact with gasoline used in the laundry. But some one spotted the plot in time.

New York—Peg-top trousers are due for a comeback, decrees the International Association of Clothing Designers. The bottoms will be narrow and the tops pleated. The association didn't say anything about reviving the tandem bicycle, nor the Floradora cettette.

THROW AWAY YOUR

CORN PLASTERS

Here's Quicker Relief from Hot Weather Feet Tortures

Just rub these stinging, painful corns briskly with Moore's Emerald Oil if you want to get rid of them quickly. Binding the corns with a cloth soaked in Emerald
 Oil will further speed their departure.
 Apply the oil wherever your shoes rub against the instep, the back of the heels, the joints. Take the sting and swelling right out. Keep them from blistering and swelling, no matter how hot the day.

Moore & Walker, druggists, say you can forget all about your feet in hot weather
 if you just keep them comfortable this way.
 Money back if they still bother you after using Emerald Oil.

Hoover Broadens 5-Day Week Drive

Washington, July 28 (AP)—Two Federal departments today sought for the president information as to how fast the five-day week is spreading and how it can be used even more.

They were obtaining facts Mr. Hoover intends to have ready next Monday when he meets representatives of a recent New England conference on re-employment. At the coming meeting, the White House said, the talk will be on "What further coordinated steps can be taken to shorten working hours and spread employment."

Governor Winant of New Hampshire has asked that President Hoover receive the delegates. The request was granted and the conference scheduled for today but postponed for the convenience of the visitors.

After announcing he would talk with the new Englanders, the President instructed the commerce and labor departments to obtain information for him on the five-day week.

Unemployment Bites

St. John's, N. F., July 28 (AP)—Thirty-two persons were held responsible today for Monday's unemployment riots. Twenty-one of them were in jail. The others were free under bond. Those arrested included Thomas Hickey, chairman of one unemployed committee and three members of the committee. Police said all ringleaders of the riots had been apprehended.

FASHIONS by ELEANOR GUNN

Silhouette Diversity Fostered in White Coats

(Copyright, 1932, by Fairchild)

Sleeveless cape styling makes distinctive the white diagonal woolen coat at left. The next model exemplifies wrist-length white fleece wool. It has a right.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

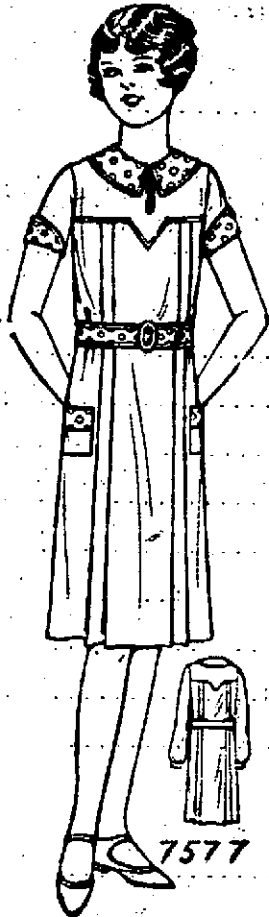

There are many women who hanker for petit-point bags. In the next season this longing should be fulfilled, for bags of this type will be cheaper than ever before.

Langin offers a beret with matching scarf, in knitted wool affecting several different novelty stitches. The scarf is of Ascot shape with widened ends pointed.

Lacy wool sweaters, usually with V-shaped yoke treatments in front and back, and featuring long sleeves, are being worn.

Huge kerchief scarfs feature sports borders, in two-color effects. The borders show silhouette scenes of hunting, motoring, boating and so on. These are in various soft autumn colors.

OUR DAILY PATTERN

A Good Style for a School Frock

7577. Plaits form a wide panel on the front and back of this model, below yoke portions in pointed outline. One may have the sleeves in wrist length, and finished with a band cuff, as in the small view, or in the short length, with a neat up-turned cuff, as in the large view. Convenient pockets trim the front, and a becoming round collar finishes the neck. White pique is here combined with printed linen. One could use gingham or cotton prints, with organdy or pique for trimming.

Designed in 4 sizes: 6, 8, 10, and 12 years. Size 8 if made as in the large view, will require 2 yards of 32-inch material with 1/2 yard of contrasting material for collar, cuffs, belt and pocket facings. If made in monotone and with long sleeves 2 1/2 yards will be required. To finish with piping, or bias binding as in the large view, will require 3 1/4 yards 1 1/4 inch wide.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Early Dutch Settlers. The Pennsylvania Dutch are descended mainly from the Germans who settled in Pennsylvania during the Colonial period, large numbers coming from the Rhenish Palatinate. There were also some Swiss and Holland Dutch among these settlers. The language is largely German mixed with English.

Colors Take On An Autumnal Warmth

New York—Stylists are having their day, and what a day it is! Twenty-four hours long in the most fashionable circles. These fabrics, seasonable as well as smart, are to be followed by crepes with a ruyly or otherwise roughened surface. Herewith sketched, is a crepe woolen model that is cleverly pleated and warmly colored—just the sort of dress to meet the autumn half-way. Note also the curious placement of its buttons, of which there are three instead of the more usual two. No need to remind you that buttons are among the most important trimming features, nor that some of them are made to work as well as to decorate.

So much has been written, even at this early date, about red and black for fall that one fears that the alliance may be over-emphasized. Although everyone seems to agree that that is hardly possible. One already sees quantities of examples of this color scheme. Black crepe dresses are being perked up by the addition of buttonieres consisting of two flowers, one white and the other bright or dark red—the flowers being large carnations or something shaggy and smart.

It seems that milliners are enthusing over red hats, ruby especially. There are already enough red hats to blaze the trail for others, whether in felt, which now seems to be the favorite medium, or in velvet, for which great success as a millinery factor is predicted.

Although copper and red may be hard to reconcile, there seems room on the early autumnal program for both colors. Rebois seems to be sponsoring the coppery tone either alone or with a friendly brown. She also finds much to commend cherry red, with brown, orange, beige, or certain greens.

Anything may develop between now and the time when fall fashions become a personal matter, but it is to be hoped that nothing will upset the lovely color schemes ready to bring warmth and cheer to the world. Color is skin deep, the new-est lingerie models being a lovely tea-rose, a delicate shade that threatens to push pink aside.

Mrs. Elizabeth Aldorf and Miss Cynthia Van Wageningen spent Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Mary McArdle.

They have been repairing the road on the school house hill. The road commissioner was in the town on Tuesday and passed over the road up along the old canal to Allgerville. It is hoped he will see that it is put in better shape. It is also hoped that the health commissioner will find out the condition of things in this section for some one has thrown a dead calf in the old canal. Certainly thing like this should be looked after.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church will hold its annual fair at the church on Thursday afternoon of next week, August fourth. There will be various fancy things on display and everyone is cordially invited to attend. There will also be a food sale and hot dogs, rolls and coffee will be served. Please hear this done in mind and come and invite your friends. Mrs. Body and daughter, Miss Emma Body, were guests of Mrs. Preston Church a few days this week. On Monday they motored up to Catskill and called on Mrs. James Overbaugh and on Tuesday they called on friends in Wurtsboro. This was the former home town of the Bodys and Mrs. Church used to teach there. So the trip brought back many memories and they met old time friends.

The Reformed Sunday school held its annual picnic at Forsyth Park, Kingston, on Tuesday, July 26, with the schools of the Roadout Valley Sunday School Union. About seventy-six two enthusiastic members of the congregation who partook of bounteous lunch and had a jolly time. A number of former members of our Sunday school from Kingston, Newburgh and Livingston Manor were welcomed as they joined their old H. F. friends.

A. E. F. Order of The Purple Heart

Only a week more remains for World War veterans to make application to the local committee for the Order of the Purple Heart. Soldiers who were cited for meritorious service by General John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of the A. E. F. and those who were wounded in action and have the right to wear the wound chevrons are eligible for this decoration of merit.

All former members of the A. E. F., whether they belong to the American Legion or not, are asked to apply at once to Joseph Belcher, chairman of the local committee, or at the American Legion Memorial Building, for the purpose of filling out an application for the medal. All applications must be forwarded to Washington, where the medals are issued. The cited and wounded men will be the guests of honor of the Ulster County American Legion in this city during the first part of September to march at the head of a big parade and to receive the Order of the Purple Heart at the hands of a distinguished former member of the A. E. F. To date only about 20 men have filed applications. It will be very unsatisfactory if on the day of the celebration the remaining veterans of Kingston who are entitled to this award have to stand on the sidewalk and watch their buddies march past who have taken advantage of this opportunity to get this coveted medal. For this reason all those entitled to receive it should apply at once. Applications may be filed with the local committee for only a few more days as it takes about six weeks to get the medals after applications are sent to Washington.

Friday evening, at 8:30 o'clock, the American Legion Auxiliary of the local American Legion will repeat its successful entertainment in the Bijou Theatre in Rosendale. The program will consist of three humorous plays, entitled Her Day of Rest, They Say, and Rocking Chair Row. A musical program will also be given. The public is invited and tickets will be for sale at the door at a very nominal cost, with reduced rate for children. These plays were given in Kingston some time ago and were immense hits. The cast is composed entirely of women. The cast is large and the acting, excellent. Indications point to a capacity house at Rosendale tomorrow night. The proceeds are for the Legion welfare fund.

properties as compared with other business properties and the assessment of gasoline stations. In regard to the latter Mr. Martin said that in fixing a valuation they took into consideration what was paid for the property taken and what buildings were erected.

Blames Automobiles

Max Richter said that it was the people's own fault in not taking a greater interest in public affairs and spoke of a public meeting called by Mayor Dempsey in which he was about the only person there. He held that the automobile was the cause of the depression and that two-thirds of the people driving autos today had no business driving cars. Others who spoke at considerable length were Mr. Abramowitz and Mrs. Bregman.

Before adjournment of the meeting President Terry announced the appointment of the following membership committee: C. S. Rowland, E. T. McGill, Benjamin Sussell, William O'Reilly, William H. Tierney, Sam Messinger, Julius Stone, J. J. Schwank, J. R. Shultz, H. H. Van Kleeck.

Two others who spoke briefly were Max L. Reben and Anthony Singler. Mr. Reben referred to the attitude taken by many toward business men, especially toward the chain stores and the manufacturers. He said that there was such a thing as "killing the goose that laid the golden egg" and the "straw that broke the camel's back," and suggested that numerous vacant store properties in Kingston would not be desirable. He said that the manufacturers were having a hard enough time already and it would seem to be wisdom to "go easy" with them.

Mr. Singler questioned the practice of the city removing large piles of boxes and other accumulation of waste material for various business places as part of the garbage removal system. President Terry suggested that that was a matter that should be taken up with the Board of Public Works.

Gregory Company Sale in Full Swing

The big August sale at the store of Gregory and Company, Broadway and Van Buren street, is now in full swing with high grade merchandise being offered at bargain prices. So heavy have been the purchases made by residents from Kingston and vicinity that two trucks are being run day and night.

Customers have come to Gregory's from as far as Albany to buy, while residents of communities surrounding Kingston have been filling the store daily. Many sales have been made to people from Saugerties, Catskill, Walden, Wallkill, New Paltz and various other villages.

Midsummer Poultry And Egg Outlook

The Farm Bureau has just received the midsummer poultry and egg outlook from the United States Department of Agriculture. The following quotations from this report will be of interest to all Ulster country producers as well as consumers.

The number of layers in farm flocks during the coming fall and winter seems likely to be 4 or 5 per cent greater than last year. This increase in layers assumes that the same number of hens will be held over as last year and that the same proportion of the pullets will be saved. Such an increase in the number of layers would not bring the total production of eggs during the fall and winter above that reached last season, when a very high rate of laying per hen prevailed, unless the winter is again mild and feed conditions cheap. July conditions indicate an abundant supply of feed.

July stocks of eggs in cold storage are 25 per cent less than last year, which will relieve the market this year of the depressing effect of burdensome stocks of storage eggs such as were on hand during the past two seasons. Although egg prices are low they are not as low relatively as prices of most other farm products. With transportation costs still relatively high, a sharp reduction has taken place in the production of eggs in the Far West and in shipments from that region. States contiguous to the large Eastern seaboard markets are increasing production.

Hens in Farm Flocks. The number of hens and pullets of laying age in farm flocks on July 1 this year was 1.5 per cent less than on July 1 last year, 6.1 per cent less than July 1930, and 7.0 per cent less than the July 1 average for the 5 years 1925-1929. In the North Atlantic and South Central states small increases over last year were shown but in all other sections small decreases occurred.

Commercial Hatchings. The production of chicks by commercial hatcheries from January to June inclusive was slightly greater than for the same period last year. There was an increase during the first two months in response to the demand from producers of early broilers. In March and April, when hatching is normally heavy, production was less than last year. Later in the season commercial hatchings held up much better than a year ago. The number hatched in June, which is normally small, was above that of June last year.

There was, for the entire season, a very sharp decrease in the total output of hatcheries in the Mountain and Pacific Coast States. There was a slight increase in the Middle West and South, and there was a greater increase in the Atlantic Coast States. The decrease in hatchings in the commercial egg-producing areas of the Far West, following a similar decline in 1931, indicates further decreases in shipments of eggs to Eastern markets from that area during the coming season. A larger proportion of the egg supplies for the large Eastern and Middle Western cities during the next year or so will probably be obtained from relatively nearby areas, the high transportation costs and the low egg prices making production for transcontinental shipment considerably less profitable than when egg prices were higher.

Poultry and Egg Prices. Poultry and egg prices on June 15 as compared with pre-war prices were not as low as prices of most other classes of farm products. The decline in poultry prices was 3 per cent and in egg prices 36 per cent, whereas the decline in prices of dairy products was 33 per cent, of meat animals 45 per cent, and of grains 59 per cent. The relatively greater decline in grain prices was favorable to poultry and egg production.

The June 15, 1932, farm price of corn and other items making up the farm poultry ration was 62 per cent below the June 15 average for the years 1923 to 1927, while the farm price of chickens was 46 per cent and of eggs 42 per cent below the June 15 average for those years.

The average farm price of chickens on June 15, 1932, was 11.4 cents per pound as compared with 16.1 cents for the year previous, a decline of 29 per cent. The greatest decline in prices occurred in the North Central States where the current June price of 9.8 cents was 33 per cent under that of last year. In other sections of the country price declines were less than the United States average.

The average U. S. farm price of eggs declined from 14.1 cents per dozen on June 15, 1931, to 10.6 cents, 48 per cent below last year, while in the North Atlantic States the farm price of 16.6 cents showed a decline of only about 15 per cent for the year.

Food Supplies. Judging by July growing conditions, feed supplies this season will be abundant. The indicated production of corn and other feed crops is much greater than last year. The indicated wheat crop is considerably smaller, but the supply is still large.

Market Receipts of Poultry. Receipts of dressed poultry at the four principal markets (New York, Chicago, Boston, and Philadelphia) for the first half of 1932 were 115,666,666 pounds compared with 125,966,666 for the same period in 1931, a decrease of about 15 per cent. This was about 7 per cent less than the 5-year average of 124,666,666 pounds.

Live poultry receipts at New York and Chicago also decreased during the first half of 1932 to 7,582 cases for the same period in 1932, a decline of slightly over 6 per cent.

Stocks of Frozen Poultry. The stocks of frozen poultry in storage on July 1, 1932, was 36,652,000 pounds. This was 1 per cent greater than on the same date in 1931, but 16 per cent less than the 5-year average. Stocks of broilers, fryers and fowl were less than those of a year ago whereas stocks of roasters were slightly heavier and turkey stocks were considerably larger. The January 1 stocks of frozen poultry for both 1931 and 1932 were reduced by 69 per cent during the first half of those years as compared with a 5-year reduction of about 65 per cent.

Consumption of Poultry. Storage stocks of dressed poultry at the four principal markets were reduced by 50,000,000 pounds during the first half of 1932, while dressed poultry receipts for the same period were 115,000,000 pounds, making a total trade disappearance of 165,000,000 pounds as compared with 176,000,000 pounds for the same period in 1931 and 172,000,000 pounds for the 5-year average. Although the trade disappearance was less than usual the demand for dressed poultry at current prices was sufficient to absorb the smaller fresh supplies, and to reduce storage stocks to 24 per cent below the 5-year average.

Poultry Marketings. As the supply of young chickens is materially larger than a year ago, increased marketings may be expected. The price of chickens has been low, but the price of feed for poultry has been relatively much lower. Should this condition continue, increased average weight of birds marketed may result from more liberal or longer continued feeding. The normal farm consumption of chickens is large. Any decrease in the prices of chickens due to increased supplies will lead to larger farm consumption. The proportion of pullets marketed will depend mainly on the relation of egg prices this summer and autumn to feed and poultry prices.

Market Egg Receipts. Receipts of eggs at the four principal markets during the first six months of 1932 amounted to 8,427,000 cases compared to 10,486,000 cases for the same period last year, and 10,335,000 cases for the 5-year average. Receipts this year were 19.6 per cent less than those of a year ago and 15.8 per cent less than the 5-year average. There were smaller receipts from all sections with the exception of the southern states, there being an increase of 2.9 per cent from the South Atlantic States and 29.2 per cent from the South Central States due to a heavy movement in February. The decrease in egg shipments from the commercial producing areas of the United States is significant. Receipts from the Pacific coast states declined 32.8 per cent and those of the mountain states 36.7 per cent. The low egg prices of the last two years with relatively high transportation and production costs have caused heavy curtailment of commercial production in these sections. Receipts from the general farming areas of the middle west have shown a decline but not to the same extent as receipts from the far west. Nearness to market and the feeding of low-cost home-grown feeds has enabled the farm-flock owner during the last two years of low egg prices, to continue with a relatively small decrease in egg production.

Storage Egg Stocks. The quantity of shell eggs in storage on July 1, 1932, amounted to 8,340,000 cases. This was about 33 per cent less than the 9,507,000 cases in storage on July 1 last year and about 34 per cent less than the five-year average. Present indications are that the peak holdings for 1932 will be the lowest since 1916.

Stocks of frozen eggs reported on July 1 amounted to 100,415,000 pounds, the equivalent of 2,369,000 cases of shell eggs. Stocks of frozen eggs on July 1 this year are about 11 per cent less than those of a year ago, but approximately six per cent greater than the five-year average. Combined holdings of shell and frozen eggs represent the equivalent of 9,209,000 cases, which is 3,441,000 cases less than the combined holdings of July 1 last year and 3,256,000 cases less than the five-year average for that date.

The smaller quantities of eggs stored this year are not generally expected to exert any marked stimulating effect upon the fall and early winter markets. Fresh egg supplies during this period are expected to be sufficiently plentiful so that unusual drafts upon storage stocks are not likely and the reduced stocks are, therefore, expected to be ample to supply the usual outlets for these grades, considering the reduced purchasing power.

Consumption of Eggs. Trade disappearance of eggs in the four principal markets for the first six months of 1932 indicated a consumption of about 9.0 per cent less than the consumption for the same months last year, which in turn was 10 per cent greater than that of the first half of 1930. The increase in 1931 was the result of the decided drop in retail prices that came during the opening months of the year which had an immediate effect in increasing consumption. After this stimulus had worn off and prices had settled to a lower basis, consumption

Activities Planned For Y. M. C. A. Boys

This year, the boys of the Boys' Division of the "Y" are particularly interested in the program being run for them there. Tuesday and Thursday at 2:30, and Saturday at 10 o'clock sees a goodly number of the A. B. C. members in the pool, and Monday and Thursdays at 7 o'clock the Employed Boys swim. August 6 will see the opening of the Boys' Division Horseback riding tournament. Several boys have signified their intention of signing up to date, and several have already signed. August 11, will see a novelty in the form of a 20 mile Bicycle Treasure hunt. Where this hike will go, when and where it will end is causing quite some speculation among the members. If enough boys are interested, a division outing will be run sometime during the summer at one of the parks or at the "Y" camp. Members of the boys' division interested in any of these, are requested to sign up at the office.

Interest in backyard poultry keeping is growing, especially in the eastern half of the country. This development will have a tendency to lessen slightly the urban demand for poultry products.

Battery A Enjoys Life At Pine Camp

July 25, 1932.

City Editor, Kingston Daily Freeman.

Dear Sir:

I thought I would drop you a line and let you know how the boys of Battery "A" are getting along in Pine Camp. We arrived here about 7 a. m. and after marching from the train to the camp our mess sergeant, Roy Houghtaling, and our cook, Jim Lyons, served us some good old ham and eggs which were certainly appreciated by the boys after the long train ride up here. We are eating like kings this year, with Jimmy Lyons to cook for us. The boys are all putting on plenty of weight. They are up to their old tricks again, and had Corporal Torigan running around here yesterday looking for the gun report. We have talking pictures at the canteen this year and the boys go big for them. Last night they showed Douglas Fairbanks in "Love is a Racket." About five hundred men saw the show and they all seemed pleased. Major General Haskell, Commander of the New York National Guard, visited us today on a tour of inspection. If anyone wishes to write to any of the men up here but does not know the address, I am willing to do so. Battery "A" 154th P. A. N. Y. N. G. Pine Camp, Great Bend, N. Y. LARRY J. BLAKE, Battery Clerk.

Bonus Unlikely as Issue in Campaign

In spite of all the excitement in Washington there is no indication the bonus question will be made an election issue.

Many of the leading Republican leaders have been busy in the House, but most of the votes which would support the bill have been given to the House of Representatives. The House of Representatives has passed the bill, but the Senate has not yet acted on it. The House of Representatives has passed the bill, but the Senate has not yet acted on it. The House of Representatives has passed the bill, but the Senate has not yet acted on it.

It must be remembered that the American Legion, which has members in millions, has been a powerful force in the House of Representatives. The American Legion has been a powerful force in the House of Representatives. The American Legion has been a powerful force in the House of Representatives.

Legion officials later were much displeased when the administration recommended out in certain already authorized veterans' allowances; and the Legion stood by and watched during the administration's subsequent trouble with the Washington paraders.

The bill, which is wholly lacking in the House of Representatives, is the issue into the campaign.

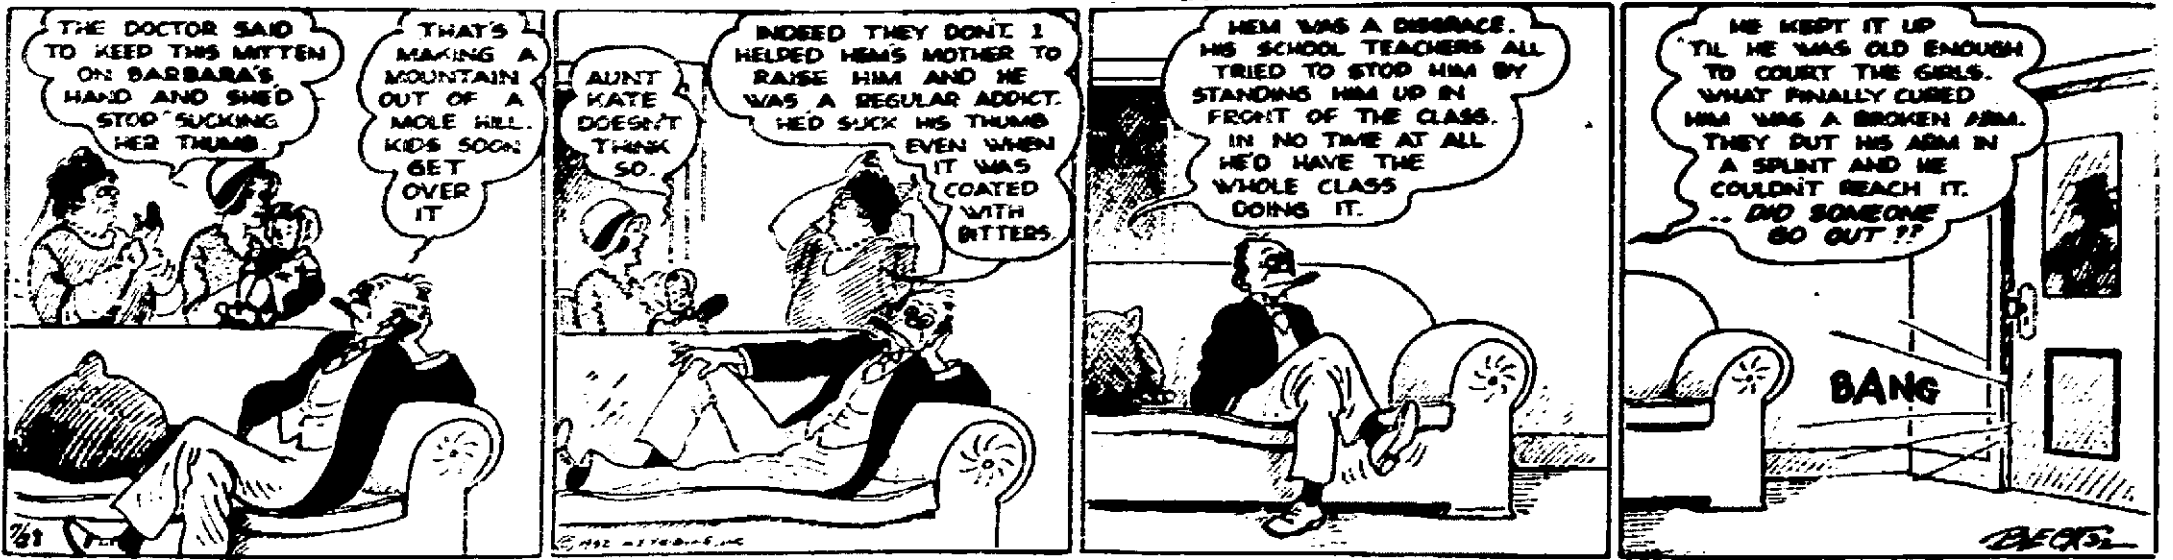

DEPUTY HAS WITNESSED EXECUTIONS OF 27 MEN

McAlester, Okla., 28.—He doesn't know whether it's a record or not, but Jim Wilkinson, deputy United States marshal here, has witnessed 27 executions.

For years a federal officer here, Wilkinson served during the time when Isaac Parker was federal judge at Fort Smith, Indian Territory.

He recalls most vividly the execution of Allan Lewis, an Indian, at McAlester. In the excitement a piece of black cloth, a marker, was pinned on the right side of the Indian's breast instead of over the heart, and when the bullet failed to kill him a group of Indians did.

SAILOR STICKS TO SHIP AND "SEES THE WORLD"

Washington 28.—Eight years ago George J. Schockley reported on board a navy transport, the U. S. S. Henderson, as a second class signalman. Today, as chief quartermaster, he's still with the ship which has covered, in that period, approximately 345,471 miles.

Together, ship and man, they've seen the east and west coasts of the United States, Cuba and other islands of the West Indies, Mexico, Nicaragua, Canal Zone, Hawaii, Philippine Islands, China, Guam, North Africa, Yugoslavia, Italy and Gibraltar.

Schockley's service has been continuous aboard the transport except for one period of six months.

Now... IVORY SOAP Prices are Lowest in 17 Years

Yes—it has been a national sensation—and Ivory Soap sales are beating all records.

Your neighbors have read the news in their daily papers. They have seen the new prices on grocery-store displays. They are buying Ivory by the dozen cakes.

Day after day, the unending stream of gleaming white Ivory cakes is flowing into millions of American homes from coast to coast. Homes that used to use three or four cakes a month are now using six or eight or a dozen.

"Why?" we've asked grocers.

"Because my customers find Ivory

so economical at these new prices that they can use it for all soap purposes."

"Yes," say the women themselves, "that's right. We used to use Ivory only for toilet purposes and fine laundry. But now we can save our hands and all our family clothes and our nice painted surfaces by using Ivory wherever we need soap at all."

Now you can make Ivory your only soap, too. It's the same pure, mild Ivory you've always known—but today it costs almost as little as ordinary laundry soaps.

Date for Central Registration Set

The first opportunity to participate in the activities connected with the forthcoming general election will be afforded the voters of the city of Kingston on Monday, when Central Registration will get under way at the office of the Board of Elections.

Central Registration as briefly described by Mark Sampson of the local Election Board follows: In the case of appearing for local registration, this being the regular registration days in October, voters residing within the city of Kingston may apply in person before the Central Registration Board at the office of the Board of Elections. The Central Registration Board will register each voter who is or may be qualified to vote at the next general election, and who is entitled to apply therefor. Every voter applying for Central Registration shall furnish an affidavit covering the information required to be given by applicants for local registration, and new voters will also be required to furnish proof of literacy.

The period of Central Registration for the present year is from August 1 to August 31, inclusive, and the Central Registration Board will be in session on each business day, during said period from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. and on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

Voters so registering will be allowed to mark and deposit with the board an enrollment blank, and such voters as may be unavoidably absent from the county on Election Day because their duties, occupation or business require them to be elsewhere within the United States may at the time of such registration apply for absentee voters ballots.

The office of the Board of Elections is at 74 John street. Blank applications are now obtainable there, and the board will assist such voters as may desire to avail themselves of the privilege of Central Registration.

$100,000 in Insurance Camp Happyland Payments in Kingston Host To Committee

According to the most recent issue of "Life Payments Localized," issued by the National Underwriter, weekly insurance payments, Kingston received $100,000 of $117,000, paid by life insurance companies of New York state policy holders and beneficiaries in 1931.

New York City led all New York cities in 1931 with $154,500,000 in life insurance payments, compared to $170,121,400 the year before.

If the state payments had been divided equally among all people living in New York in 1931 each would have received $10.90.

Catherine T. Rooney inherits New York, July 27 (Special).—According to a report filed in Surrogate's Court, Brooklyn, this morning by the Transfer Tax Department, Catherine T. Rooney, 13 Prince Street, Kingston, inherits $2,630 from the estate of the late James F. Rooney of Brooklyn. The estate, which was appraised today at $42,511 gross and $40,351 net, is composed principally of bonds, real estate and cash. Mr. Rooney died in Brooklyn on May 11, and left the bulk of his estate to relatives, residents of New York city.

Solar Eclipse August 31 To Provide Scientific Show For Whole Continent

By ROBERT H. BAKER,
Professor of Astronomy, University of Illinois.

Urbana, Ill. (AP).—The eclipse of the sun on August 31 will be visible throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico. From all parts of North America the dark disk of the moon can be seen on this day crossing in front of the sun.

But the total eclipse can be viewed only along a strip of hundred miles in width, the track of the moon's shadow over the earth's surface.

100 Seconds to Pass.
This track begins near the North Pole, where the shadow strikes the earth at sunrise. It runs southeastward across Hudson Bay, Quebec, New England, and then out into the ocean, where the shadow leaves the earth at sunset.

After traversing the northeast corner of Vermont the center of the shadow will move swiftly past Lancaster and Conway, N. H., and will reach the coast about halfway between Portsmouth and Portland.

The shadow will arrive in this region about 3:30 p. m. eastern standard time, and will require only a minute and forty seconds to pass any point on the central line.

Will See Corona.
Crowds of people will assemble along the track of the shadow on the afternoon of August 31 to watch the rare spectacle of a total solar eclipse. Totality will last only 100 seconds at any place, but if the sky is clear it will be a sight well worth going a long way to see.

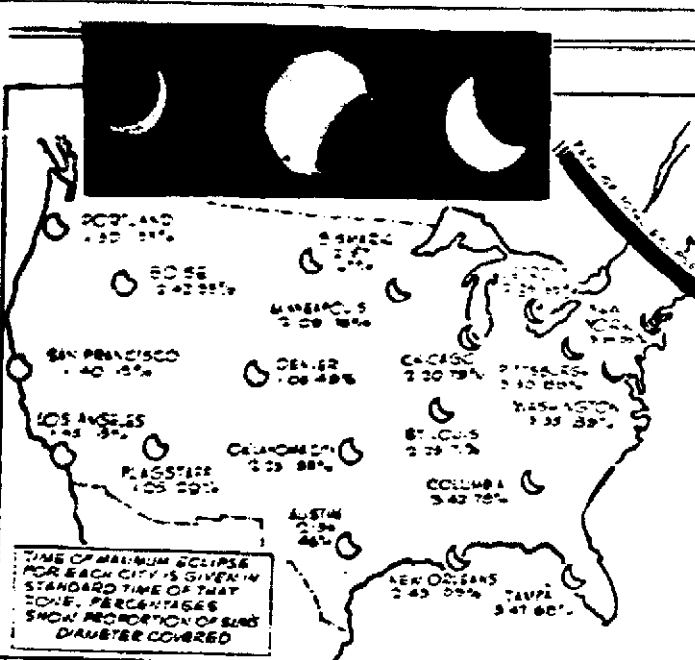

During this short interval the moon will hide the sun completely. Day will be turned into night. Stars will come out. The mysterious corona and probably some of the flame-colored prominences surrounding the sun will burst into view.

Preceding this principal feature of the exhibit the partial eclipse can be seen, beginning in New England about 2:20 p. m., eastern standard time; and after totality the moon will not withdraw entirely from before the sun's disk until 4:30 p. m.

At the edges of the shadow track, 50 miles from the central line, the total eclipse will last only a moment. The southern edge across New England is a line from the top of Lake Champlain to Salem, Mass. Parallel to it, the northern boundary passes through Boothbay, Maine.

Farther north or south the eclipse will be only partial. The moon will pass across the sun, but not centrally across, so that it will not entirely hide the sun. And the fraction of the sun's disk that is eclipsed will be less as the distance from the central line is greater. At Boston 99 per cent will be hidden, at Denver 49 per cent, at Los Angeles 15 per cent.

In watching the partial eclipse the eyes should be protected by a dark glass. For even when only a small crescent of the sun's disk remains uncovered, the light may be too strong to gaze at safely for any length of time.

WEST SHOKAN.
West Shokan, July 28.—Martin J. Every of Traver Hollow called on Shepard Bell of Main Street on Sunday.

Mrs. Louise Winchell of Kingston is assisting Mrs. Watson Bishop with her general housework. Mrs. Winchell expects to stay for two weeks.

Everyone is all pepped up and ready to go to the regular weekly dance at Colange's Hall on Saturday evening. Frank Constable and his "Royal Delawares" will furnish music for both modern and old fashioned dancing from nine until one o'clock.

Mrs. John Marshall of Olive Bridge was a Main street social caller on Tuesday afternoon.

Lewis Eckert of Staatsburg accompanied by a neighbor, made a fruitless trip for huckleberries on Hoopole mountain, as the sunbaked hucks were found to be few and scattered.

On Tuesday evening a group of young folks were entertained by Donald Bishop and Marjorie Davis at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Bishop, of West Shokan.

The party consisted of Howard Lucht of a guest at "The Green Hen," Miss Lydia Yoell, Miss Antonette Valle, Vincent Gillen and Miss Cornelia Davis. Mrs. Watson Bishop and friend, Mrs. Louise Winchell, also joined the young folks. The musical program of the evening was opened by a duet, "My Little Dog," played by Mrs. Bishop and her great-niece, Miss Davis. Miss Yoell and Miss Davis also played duets. A very pleasant evening was passed, and after a variety luncheon had been served the guests departed, expressing their desire to meet again in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson Eckert of Middletown, Connecticut, recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Early North of North Main street.

Vincent Gillen and Patrick Hartman climbed Mount Tremper on Tuesday. They enjoyed the hike immensely.

Chase Davis celebrated his seventy-third birthday on Tuesday, without even knowing it, while working at the sawmill. Mr. Davis says that his birthday is just like any other day to him. His granddaughter, Marjorie, was eighteen on Thursday.

On Monday, Egbert Boice of Watson Hollow fittingly celebrated his birthday calling on old friends about the community.

Miss Irene Garigan and Milton Lewis returned to their home in Newark, N. J., after spending a three weeks vacation at the Blue Gate Inn. They expect to return and stay during the months of August.

Harold Hillary returned to his home in Hempstead, L. I., on Monday, after spending a very pleasant week-end with friends in this locality.

Ernie and Able Constable's haying bee at their High Point mountain farm on Monday decidedly made manifest the spirit of cooperation which exists about the neighbors of the community. Among the harvesters who did their bit were Eddie and Joe Winkler with their team, moving machine and haywagons, ditto Julian Eckert, Elwyn Davis with his team and machine, Irving Healey with his frisky pair and hay rake. Among the brigade of hand mowers and rakers were Sylvester Jones, Marvin Van De Mark, Jack Henrichsen, Harold Constable, Ray Kelder, and last but not means least, Ernie and Able. Although the old meadows are for the most part stern and rock-bound everyone did their bit most admirably and before the afternoon sun had settled from view beyond the rugged crest of South mountain the whole place except abandoned fields had been cut over and two gigantic loads of hay had jiggled and jounced down off the hill and found a ready storage in the yarding bay of Ray Kelder's barn. Ernie and Able are no longer keeping hay eating critters to feed except a young heifer calf from Al Bell's dairy which Aunt May McGreevy is bringing up by hand. At high noon there was a real old-fashioned haying bee dinner, and all the trimmings served by the genial good housewife and her ready helping niece, Louise Thompson. Around this table of bounties the hungry hayers gathered and feasted, while Ernie entertained so hard with old time fiddle tunes and hay-making songs that his new "G" string plunk broke to the disappointment of everyone, which was just too bad as Ernie was getting all primed for a scheduled appearance as the High Point mountain fiddler at Roadie's Theatre Tuesday evening. Again before leaving came a luncheon of sandwiches and coffee in sure enough bounteous supply as Ernie, his face wreathed in smiles, did his bit with several specially requested songs, sans the disabled fiddle. Surely affairs like these are not soon fading from memory. Then on Tuesday came the clean up with a smaller crew, consisting of Uncle Ves Jones, Ernie and Harold Constable, Ray Kelder, Julian Eckert and his team, and also Davis's grays and haywagons did duty for the occasion. Three more whopping loads found refuge in Ray's barn which is filled up nearly to the beam, and now Ernie and Able's haying is all over for another year, but it is just too bad that Ernie finished up just completely all in, and with that "G" string still burst, and everything, which made it just impossible for him to keep his well intended appointment at the Old Time Fiddlers' meet. But at the next call Ernie sure enough hopes to be there.

Premier Herriot Protests Address
Paris, July 28 (AP).—Premier Herriot filed a protest today with the German ambassador against the recent radio address in which General Kurt von Schleicher, German minister of the interior, threatened to strengthen Germany's military power unless other nations scaled down their arms.

The premier called it tactless and inopportune, particularly since Germany signed the agreements at Lausanne and adhered to the Anglo-French consultative pact.

Later, Herriot told the press that his conversation yesterday with United States ambassador Edge convinced him that the American people appreciate the importance of the results achieved at Lausanne.

Nurmi Favored to Win Marathon If He Is Permitted to Run

(By Alan Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor)

Los Angeles, July 28.—The balloting will have to be conducted this week-end, after a debate conducted in at least three separate languages, before it is decided whether Paavo Nurmi makes his farewell Olympic gesture in the classic marathon Sunday afternoon, August 1.

If Nurmi is victorious at the international polls, his most difficult barrier may have been cleared, for in spite of a strained Achilles tendon, the great Finn is confident he can win the marathon in record time. Most critics agree with him.

How Contenders Rank

If Paavo's suspension stands, however, the crowning feature of the Olympic track and field program will be a toss-up. The contenders, with or without Nurmi as the case may be, rank somewhat in this order:

Paul De Bruyn of New York, representing Germany.

Tsuda, 1928 veteran, and two Koreans, Gon and Kim, representing Japan.

A. Tolvenen and Willie Kyronen, the Brooklyn baker, representing Finland.

Juan Carlos Zabala and Jose Ribas of Argentina.

Jimmy Henigan, Whitey Michelson and Hans Oldak, U.S.A.

There is always, of course, the chance of a "dark horse" winning the marathon. It is a test where any one of a number of factors may turn the scales.

The 1928 winner, El Ouafi of France, just happened to have a big day at Amsterdam. He turned pro afterward and has faded from the picture.

Nurmi, naturally, won't be handed the gold medal or decorated with the laurel wreath until he covers 26 miles, 385 yards ahead of the rest of the pack. It is no odds-on bet that the celebrated Finn, at his best, can make a "show" of the strong field assembled for the long distance classic.

Relay Events

Between the start and finish of the marathon in the Olympic stadium, the 400 and 1,600 meter relay championships will be decided. Both baton-passing events figure to furnish their usual thrills, with the United States, defending champion at both distances, opposed by strong teams from Germany, Canada and Great Britain.

The German 400-meter team, which has broken the world record, figures to give the Americans a great race. The U.S. team will consist of Frank Wykoff, Emmett Toppino, Bob Kiesel and Hector Dyer, all of whom have touched 9.6 or better for 100 yards. The best of the German quartet are Korgip and Jonath.

The British should be the strongest challenger in the 1,600 meter relay, with Rampling, Stoneley, Hampson and probably Lord Burghley racing the American combination of Karl Warner, Ed Ablowich, Arnold Adams and Ivan Fuqua, all college boys.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press)

Consider the plight of the Detroit Tigers, a team which had high hopes of getting somewhere this season in the American League after several seasons of frustration and now seems to have lost most of their hopes in one big slump.

After July 4, the traditional turning point of the season, the Tigers were sitting up there in second place, a good distance behind the league leading New York Yankees and with a very slim margin over a couple of rivals, but still to all appearances the best team in the western section of the league. Today they are fifth, five games behind Cleveland and Philadelphia and Cleveland's Indians have usurped their former place as the outstanding western club.

Since the Fourth Detroit lost 13 out of 22 games in a disastrous road tour and yesterday they took it on the chin twice as they opened their home stand against the Athletics. The A's had little or no trouble pounding Whitehill, Goldstein and Wyatt for 17 hits and a 13 to 5 victory in the opener, then came back behind Rube Walberg to take the second, 4 to 0, despite some excellent pitching by Buck Marrow, Tiger rookie.

Cleveland held its virtual tie with the Athletics and reduced the New York Yankees margin to seven games by taking a double bill from the league leaders, 2 to 1 and 12 to 10. Home runs won both games with Joe Vosmik giving Oral Hildebrand the decision in his opening duel with Danny MacFayden and Eddie Morgan supplying the winning tally in the second battle.

Smead Jolley of Boston turned in a neat batting feat of a homer, two doubles, a single and a walk in five visits to the platter as he led the Red Sox to a 15 to 5 victory over his old Chicago teammates. Washington squared the series with the St. Louis Browns, winning the second game 9-5 as Weaver and Marberry combined to give the Browns only three hits.

Giants Defeated Twice. In the National League, the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates stole the show by winning two last minute decisions from the New York Giants, 9 to 8 and 4 to 2 and increasing their margin over Chicago to five games. They scored three runs in the ninth to win the second clash after taking the first on a four run rally in the sixth. Relief Hurley Bill Harris was credited with both victories.

Chicago could get no better than an even break in a twin bill with Boston, losing a 2 to 1 decision to young Bob Brown but winning the second battle with some heavy stick work against Fred Frankhouse.

Brooklyn made it three straight over the St. Louis Cardinals, 5 to 4, as old Jack Quinn won his second victory in two days by pitching the last ball in the first half of the ninth and watching the Dodgers score the winning tally on Mickey Pinn's single in the last half. Cincinnati's Reds turned back the Phillies, 4 to 2 as Larry Benton stopped a ninth inning rally after giving only four hits in the first eight frames.

(By The Associated Press.) Bill Harris, Pirates—As relief pitcher gained credit for Pittsburgh's two victories over Giants.

Jimmie Foxx and Bing Miller, Athletics—Former hit .41st home run, latter made five hits in eight times up as A's took two from Detroit.

Neal Finn, Dodgers—His single in ninth drove in O'Doul with run that beat Cardinals, 5-4.

Mone Weaver and Fred Marberry, Senators—Held Browns to three hits to win, 9-3.

Larry Benton, Reds—Limited Phillies to four hits in eight innings for 4-2 victory.

Joe Vosmik and Eddie Morgan, Indians—Their homers provided winning runs in Cleveland's double victory over Yankees.

Bob Brown, Braves, and Guy Bush, Cubs—Former pitched Braves to 2-1 victory, latter checked Boston batters as Chicago won, 4-1.

Smead Jolley, Red Sox—Hit homer, two doubles and single against White Sox.

Game Washed Out; Forst-Cravats Tonight

A heavy downpour of rain halted the City League game between the Knights of Columbus and the Schryver Lumbermen at the Athletic Field Wednesday evening. The teams battled for three full innings and were in the first half of the fourth when they were stopped. Schryvers were leading, 3-2, at the time the game was called.

The Forst Butchers and the Northern Neckwear will meet at the Athletic Field this evening. In the last game between these two teams the Butchers had a hard struggle in winning over the Cravats, the score being 4-3, so tonight's game ought to be a good one. Jim Voelker or Dewey Van Buren will be on the mound for the Butchers with Robins behind the bat. Weidemann or Davis and Messenger will make up the Cravats' battery.

Meeting After Game. The managers and officers of the league will meet immediately after the game tonight at the city hall. A protested game is to be decided and matters pertaining to the second half will be discussed.

Game Friday Night. On Friday evening at the Athletic Field the Knights of Columbus and the Talcet Boxmen will play off their 9-9 tie game, which was played the first part of the season.

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

The business of raising funds for this year's American Olympic forces has presented so many difficulties and obvious barriers, during hard times, that steps certainly will be taken to establish a different financial system for the future.

In better times it was not so difficult to arouse public interest in a fund-raising campaign during the last few months before sending America's teams to the athletic wars.

Generally there were a few wealthy enthusiasts who could be counted on, anyway, to dig down for the necessary wherewithal. When he was the most potent leader, Col. Robert M. Thompson personally supplied a good share of the funds but the American Olympic committee no longer can rely on such an "angel."

It's a national proposition now and Avery Brundage, the Chicago contractor who has borne the burden of leadership for the past four years, testifies as to the current difficulties.

Faced the Facts

Brundage compelled the rest of the leaders to face the financial facts, in the first place, and took the initiative in the none-too-pleasant task of welding the pruning knife on the various Olympic delegations.

Brundage was accused of crying "wolf" but he succeeded, at least, in arousing much belated activity. Personally he wrote to all athletic clubs in the U.S.A. for funds, telegraphed a group of wealthy men asking a specific donation and spurred any number of benefit events.

When I stopped off in Chicago to see Brundage and his assistant, Lyman Bingham, they were in the midst of conducting golf, polo, swimming, track and other events for the aid of the Olympic fund. Gene Sarazen caught their enthusiasm, started a subscription list with $50 and volunteered to canvass his friends forthwith.

To Use Off-Years

"It should not be necessary, however, to resort to such strenuous measures at the last minute to support our Olympic enterprise," Brundage declared.

"If it's the last thing I do as president, I propose to devise some system whereby all the burden will not be deferred to Olympic years. The ideal plan would be to have a sufficient endowment to provide an Olympic income. This may not be feasible for some time to come, however, so that it will be necessary to work out a plan by which we will distribute the fund-raising over a four-year period."

"This may be done by having the schools, colleges and clubs contribute a small percentage from their meets and games. If, for example, we got only a dollar from every high school meet, it would mean about $15,000 a year, or $60,000 by the time another Olympiad came around."

Woodruff Organized The Mountain Stars

Man Who Introduced Baseball in the Catskills Visits Scene of His Early Days of 40 Years Ago and Plans One Surviving Member of Nine.

West Shokas, July 28.—In the group of old timers who rode roused Sunday afternoon with the Sheppard Bell at the West Shokas Inn was the man who introduced baseball to this locality, namely Edward Woodruff, now of Boston, brother-in-law of Herbert Bell, another of the group. Some sixty years ago Woodruff gathered together a group of young men and boys and taught them the new fangled game of baseball, and from the most prominent players organized the "Mountain Stars." Besides Mr. Woodruff, the set remains one member of the memorable crew, the genial, round proprietor, where the reminiscence group gathered, Mr. Bell.

In those days fast ones and sweeping curves had not been invented, the pitcher simply tossed the ball to the batter who was privileged to whale away at it to his heart's content. Judge Henry Winchell, local olive magistrate, recalls Mr. Woodruff as the first to formed ball player he ever saw. The occasion was at a Sunday school picnic where Mr. Winchell, just a wee lad, witnessed a baseball game between picked up teams in which Mr. Woodruff was one of the opposing pitchers. The picnic was held on the old Jacob B. Winchell ground now owned by Jules Breuchand. Although outlived as an active player by Father Time, Mr. Woodruff maintains a keen interest in the sport that has become an international pastime.

Injunction Action Over Disputed Road Continued in Court

The Mollenhauer-Ackerman injunction action was continued before Judge Louhran in Supreme Court Wednesday afternoon. At mid-afternoon plaintiff's case was in. The defense called Engineer John F. Hallinan as its first witness to identify a map which was offered.

Before plaintiff rested several more residents of the town of Rosendale were called to testify as to what they knew and had observed in regard to the road which is in dispute. Plaintiff alleges that road is a public highway while the defense claims it is not and never has been and that the right of way for the Mollenhauer family is not through the Ackerman property.

Lloyd R. Le Fever and A. J. Cook appear for the plaintiffs and Chris J. Flanagan and William A. Kaesher appear for the defendant Ackerman and Judge A. T. Clearwater for the defendant Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation.

Driscoll Re-called. Philip Driscoll was recalled by plaintiff after the noon recess. He testified he had been a path-master in the town when Frank Sheeley had been road commissioner in 1940 and 1941 and as a path-master had worked the road from the Krom place to the top of the hill at the Mollenhauer line. The road was worked from James street up to the house on the then Driscoll place, now occupied by Ackerman, and about 200 feet from the Mollenhauer line. At that time Driscoll said he did not live on the Ackerman place, but across the creek. His father worked the Ackerman place and Jerry Lane live on the premises.

Charles T. Craig of Tillson was next called. He said he had resided in the town since 1891 and had been school trustee in district No. 2 for 25 years and had been collector of school taxes for 14 years prior to that. He has also been a truant officer and while truant officer used the road to go to the residence of one family whose son had failed to attend school. He said as long as he could remember the road was open and used and that he traveled it to collect taxes. There had been a gate at the Mollenhauer line.

Asked if he knew of a road down to Buttermilk Falls, known as the "new" road which led from Tillson down to the falls, he said he knew of a road from the Sime Pest Kentor place down to Tillson's mill on the creek. Mr. Flanagan asked if he knew a road which went on down toward the present power house on the west side of the Walkkill from Buttermilk Falls to and across the Mollenhauer property and a portion of which was now under the new dam erected by the power company at Sturgeon Pool. Mr. Craig said he knew of no such road. He said there had been a road in the valley which is now under water but he did not know it ran down to the present dam site. He knew of it as the Tillson's Mill road. This road led to the Tillson grist mill and he had hauled grist over it. There had been three or four houses down there at the mill but he never heard that the road continued past the mill and over the Mollenhauer property and across a ford in the creek.

L. L. Merrihue Called. Next Isaac L. Merrihue was called. He too, lives in Tillson and has resided in the town about 47 years. From 1912 to 1925 he was assessor and knew the Mollenhauer farm. It was formerly the Sheeley farm. Thirty-five years ago when the Ulster County Savings Bank owned the property he cut hay on the premises and used the road in question. There was a gate then at the top of the hill at the property line. He said he was at the Grange picnic about two years ago on the Mollenhauer property and for three or four years he had noticed "no thoroughfare" signs on the road. When he cut hay on the Mollenhauer property he had hauled it to Edenville and at that time he used the road in question. He did not use any ford across the creek to the Rock Lock road. He never saw a road past the Mollenhauer place to a ford on the creek, and he never knew of any road over Webster's lock and down over the fording place to the Mollenhauer property.

Otis Krom of Tillson was the next witness. He said he had resided there for 35 years and in 1918 and 1919 had been commissioner of highways in the town. He said he had worked the road as part of the town system from the Krom corner to the Mollenhauer line. There were two ways to get to the Mollenhauer place from his residence and he had used both ways down to the road in question. He said since he had worked the road as commissioner he had been over the road, but there were no obstructions.

tion of James street and the road in question. She said she used the road and others used the road during that time.

During the time she resided there had been no obstructions on the road and there had been a gate at the Mollenhauer line. Cross examined she said she was but three years old in 1945 but as a child she could remember people using the road. It was impossible to recall any specific use but she could recall people passing over the road. At that point plaintiff rested.

Judge Louhran asked plaintiff if they claimed any easement as against Ackerman property or if they only claimed it to be a public highway.

Mr. Cook said that so far as the plaintiff was concerned they could find no record of any easement over the Ackerman lands but that in addition to claiming the road to be a public road the plaintiff also claimed that a right to use it had been acquired by them through public use and that thereby their right to use it had become a prescriptive right.

Amend Complaint. Judge Louhran states that the complaint only alleged a "public road" and Mr. Le Fever asked leave at this point to amend his complaint to conform with the proof so that in the event it was determined the road was not a "public road" then the plaintiff might assert his right to use it by right of having used it without interference for many years.

Judge Louhran stated that the electric company alleged both easement and public right.

Mr. Flanagan objected to the amending of the complaint but later withdrew his objection and the court directed the complaint amended.

Mr. Flanagan then for the defendant Ackerman moved to dismiss the complaint and the court reserved decision at this stage of the case. John F. Hallinan was called and identified a map of the properties involved. The defense will proceed with its proof.

Veterans Promise To Change Billets
Washington, July 28 (AP)—Having stuck to their camps on Federal property despite orders, threats, promises, police and battering rams, the capital's bonus hunters today were agreed to leave of their own free will.

At least, one of the veterans' leaders, Walter W. Waters, told his men to begin shifting to other billets. His announcement after a prolonged talk with harassed Pelham D. Glassford, police superintendent, and the District of Columbia commissioners, promised once more to end the ten days of bickering over who should get the veterans out of crude shelters on Pennsylvania avenue and why they should go.

Just before Waters approved the retreat—principally because "friends" had donated money for barracks at Camp Bartlett, in Anacostia, a suburb—President Hoover became interested.

Possibly impelled by a desire to find out personally what kept the would-be outcasts from getting together, he called to the White House Secretary Hurley, Secretary Mills and Ferry K. Heath, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

Subsequently, Mr. Hoover asked Attorney General Mitchell how the veterans best could be removed from their grounds on Pennsylvania avenue so old structures could be torn away and the federal building program proceed.

Bonuses prepared voluntarily to leave their squatter billets, still enjoying laughs over the latest efforts to evict them. Fifty police arrived at their camp once and spent hours standing around waiting for orders that Glassford declined to issue.

A large crane which swings a 4,000 pound ball against walls and knocks them down, steamed up to get in action. Along with the 40 workers who accompanied it, the crane waited and waited.

Then lawyers for the district commissioners, and most everybody else involved, agreed that unless the veterans left voluntarily, a long court fight would be necessary. Fortunately for officials, the veterans capitulated.
